This year’s CDA Presents show — cases meaningful updates to some of the most exciting product launches of the last several years.

The recently released OP300 Maxio from Instrumentarium builds on the OP300 platform to deliver advanced 3-D, panoramic and cephalometric imaging that offers diagnostic information of the entire maxillofacial region.

The NOMAD Pro 2 improves on every aspect of the original for greater durability, reliability and battery performance.

A dynamic addition to the KaVo handpiece line, KaVo’s MASTER-torque M8900L provides a new dimension of power (23 watts) and features a patented Direct Stop Technology that stops the bur in less than one second, increasing efficiency and improving patient safety during treatment.

The i-CAT FLX MV CBCT, featuring award-winning FLX technology and new Treatment Studio 5.3 treatment planning software, makes it possible for dental professionals to offer 3-D imaging with dosages less than that of a panoramic. Quick Scan+ technology produces high-volume images quickly with a lower dose to the patient.

In addition, after numerous awards and industry recognition, Kerr SonicFill also boasts recent enhancements. It is no surprise to see these five companies go above and beyond the call to innovate. They are part of the KaVo Kerr Group family — building on 500 years of combined experience to deliver smart products and processes that enable dental professionals to confidently optimize their work and lives.

“These outstanding product developments are evidence of the common DNA among all the KaVo Kerr Group brands: trust, experience, choices, quality, smart innovation,” said Matt Garrett, vice president of marketing for KaVo Kerr Group. “Our brands inspire best practices in the dental practice, and in turn, the dental practice inspires our brands to continuously evolve.”
