What’s on Friday, 8 April, 2016

IDEM Opening Ceremony

Time: 10 am
Venue: Level 4, outside Hall 403/404, Suntec Singapore Convention and Exhibition Centre

A regular event at every IDEM, the opening ceremony will include addresses by high-ranking officials from organisers Koelnmesse and the Singapore Dental Association, as well as feature Singapore Minister of Health Gan Kim Yong as a guest of honour. Topics to be covered are the evolution of IDEM, future plans for the event and the state of dentistry in the Asia-Pacific region.

Blue Man Group

Time: 8 pm
Venue: Sands Theatre, MasterCard Theatres at Marina Bay Sands

www.marinabaysands.com/entertainment

This blue-headed combo needs no introduction, as their genre-defying mix of comedy, music and slapstick has already captivated 35 million people worldwide since their first public appearance in New York in the late 1980s. From only three performers, the group has evolved into an international franchise that now employs over 70 artists all over the globe. In Singapore, BMG is giving performances daily at the Sands Theatre throughout April. Tickets start from S$90.

K-live Sentosa

Time: From 1 pm
Venue: Resorts World Sentosa
www.rwsentosa.com

Opened just over a month ago, the K-pop hologram theatre is the latest attraction of Resorts World Sentosa. It uses state-of-the-art holographic technology, which has already brought music legends like Michael Jackson and 2Pac back to life, to create a concert experience with K-pop stars as virtual 3-D images of themselves. The current show features fan favourites Wonder Girls, 2PM and GOT7. Concerts are held daily from 1 pm to 6 pm, except on Mondays. The organiser has promised vivid and dynamic performances that allow audiences and virtual performers to interact with each other.

Liao Zhai Rocks!
A Chinese Rock Musical

Time: 8 pm
Venue: Drama Centre
www.dramacentre.com

The Drama Centre presents another original Chinese musical, Liao Zhai Rocks!, which sees a return to the stage after six years. From the creative talents behind If There’re Seasons... and Lao Jiu: The Musical, a new cast tells the story of forbidden love that transcends life and death through the energy and expression of rock music. Performances are in Mandarin, with English subtitles provided.