Passport and Visa
Owing to the Schengen regulations, nationals from a country of the European Union do not require a visa to enter the Federal Republic of Germany. All other foreigners require a visa for stays in the country. A visa is not required for semi-annual visits of up to 90 days for nationals of those countries for which the European Union has abolished the visa requirement. A current list is available on the website of the Federal Foreign Office at www.auswaertiges-amt.de/EN.

How to get to Cologne
Cologne Bonn airport is served by most European and international airlines. With more than nine million passengers per year, it currently ranks number six in a nationwide comparison of passenger statistics. As official airline of IDS 2015, Lufthansa is offering visitors reduced rates for flights from over 250 cities in around 100 countries to the airports in Cologne, Düsseldorf and Frankfurt/Main. In order to make use of the discount, users must visit www.lufthansa.com/meetingsandevents and enter the code "DEZIDT15".

Visitors planning to travel by train can take advantage of the discount fares offered by Deutsche Bahn (www.bahn.de/de/view/home/aktion/ids). The express railway station in Terminal 1.

Airport transfer
Reaching Cologne by taxi (stand located at Terminal 2) costs between €25 and 30. A less-expensive alternative is the urban train (S-Bahn), which departs regularly from the InterCity Express railway station in Terminal 1. With their IDS ticket, exhibitors and visitors can use buses, trams and urban trains on the local public transport network of the Rhine-Sieg Transport Authority (VSG), including the transfer between the Koelnmesse fairground and the airport free of charge.

Banking and currency
As a member of the European Union, Germany uses the euro as legal tender. The exchange rate is about €0.87 to the US dollar (as at 4 February 2015). Credit card usage is still low compared with other European countries and limited to larger department stores, hotels, restaurants and petrol stations. Maestro Cards, however, are accepted almost everywhere, with a few exceptions, like newspaper stands, bakeries and fast-food restaurants, which only accept cash. Banks are open from 8.30 to 16.30 on weekdays.

Medical insurance
Although the German health care system has declined slightly recently, the country still has a high standard of medical care. Emergency treatment, however, can be costly and therefore travel health insurance, which is offered by many insurance companies, is highly recommended.

Weather
While average temperatures in Cologne range from 11 to 2°C (51–35°F), the weather in March can be very unpredictable. As spring starts on 20 March this year, warm clothes and rain gear are necessary when visiting the city.
