A local philanthropic organization will benefit thanks to the Alliance of the American Dental Association’s service project at ADA 2018 — America’s Dental Meeting, and ADA members are invited to join in the effort.

The alliance will coordinate the Head 2 Toe Project, which supports a local nonprofit by collecting and distributing oral health-care items and other necessities. Alliance members will distribute the items to the Next Step Shelter in Honolulu, an emergency shelter for couples and individuals that provides housing placement help, job training, referrals for health care and more.

Annual meeting attendees can drop off donations of personal hygiene items through Friday at the Hawaii Convention Center on the third floor across from Room 317.

ADA members and those interested in joining the alliance are invited to the alliance’s Dental Health Education Luncheon at noon on Saturday at the Moana Surfrider, a Westin Resort & Spa. Visit allianceada.net to register.

For more information about the Head 2 Toe project or the alliance, contact Lissette Zuknick or Kelsey Bulnes at info@allianceada.org or call (813) 540-2154. A complete list of items being collected for the project is available at AllianceADA.org/Head-2-Toe-Project.

speakers) and the Women in Dentistry Leadership Series, which was first introduced at the 2017 annual meeting and features leadership talks from female thought leaders.

This program, sponsored by Crest + Oral-B, returns with keynote courses and deep-dive conversations and takes place daily at 10:30 a.m.

Today, Tasha Eurich will present “Self Awareness: The Path to Success in Your Practice and Life.” An organizational psychologist, Eurich will help attendees discover how self-awareness can make them a more confident, respected and effective leader.

On Friday, Kindra Hall will present “It’s OK to Celebrate Your Accomplishments.” A columnist at INC.com, Hall will show attendees how crafting their story to illustrate their achievements can be effective.

Then on Saturday, Michelle Poler will present “Fear Less, Do More.” A TEDx speaker, researcher and influencer, Poler will challenge attendees to get out of their comfort zone and tap into their full potential.

The New and Emerging Speaker Series also returns to the ADA this year. The series offers up-and-coming educators the chance to be part of the official speaker series lineup at annual meetings.

Two presenters were selected to be part of this year’s lineup after delivering talks at ADA 2017 in Atlanta. Kelli Jaecks is offering “Martinis and Menopause: Implications for Women’s Health,” scheduled for Saturday at 7 a.m. She will also present the course “Body on Fire: Inflammation’s Role in Oral-Systemic Links,” scheduled for Sunday at 7:30 a.m. Jaecks, on the Oregon Oral Health Coalition Board and president of Verbal Impact!, published a book this year called “Martinis and Menopause: Strategies, Science and Sips that Empower Women to Beat the Hormone Groan.”

Dr. Amy Dayries-Ling, a general dentist in the Atlanta suburbs, will also present two courses: “Integrating Whole Body Health in the Hygiene Chair” on Saturday at 11:30 a.m. and “Holistic Dentistry: Practical Applications to Support Health” on Saturday at 7:30 a.m.

For more information on speakers and courses, as well as on exhibitors and the many networking events offered this year, download the ADA events app to your smartphone.

DentalEZ® Integrated Solutions is proud to present the 430SWL® Torque Flex handpiece from StarDental®.

Combining the power of the Star-Dental 430 Torque with flex coupling, the 430SWL Torque Flex handpiece provides convenient, powerful performance for your practice, according to the company. With 31 watts of power, the 430SWL Torque Flex has the power you need for all of your high-speed procedures.

“Dentists can now experience the power of our best performing handpiece without having to change their existing flex swivels,” said Eric B. Reno, brand manager – StarDental Products.

Made in the United States, the 430SWL Torque Flex handpiece is dependable while maintaining features similar to the 430SWL Torque. The small, 11.1-mm diameter head and the fiber optics are ideal for operative site visibility, the company asserts. Backed by a two-year limited warranty, the 430SWL Torque Flex comes with a lubricated design option to match your existing processing regimens.

Better care through innovation
Solvay Dental 360 shows off its paradigm-shifting polymer

Here in Honolulu, company is offering dentists special pricing for premium alternative to metal partials

By Solvay Dental 360 Staff

Solvay Dental 360™ is bringing Ultaire™ AKP, a high-performance polymer for removable partial denture (RPD) frames, to the ADA 2018 – America’s Dental Meeting, here in Honolulu.

Ultre AKP was specifically designed to fill the gap between metal RPDs, which can be too rigid and stiff, and other polymer frame materials that can be too flexible.

Here at the show, Solvay Dental 360 will have a special offer for dentists who visit its booth: two Ultaire AKP partials for the price of one. To receive the offer, dentists can stop by booth No. 1043.

“Dentists and patients alike are demanding better materials for RPDs, and Ultaire AKP delivers in a way that metal and other polymer options simply cannot,” says Shawn Shorrock, global director, Solvay Dental 360. “We saw an unmet need to replace metal in dental materials, similar to other markets we serve such as orthopedic and cardiovascular, and we worked closely with dentists to ensure Ultaire AKP best serves their needs and those of their patients.”

As patients become more aware of the effects of metal — the potential allergies, toxicity and taste — they are also becoming more proactive, asking for partial dentures that feel natural, comfortable and are esthetically appealing. Ultaire AKP is an innovative aryl ketone polymer that provides a biocompatible, lightweight, metal-free, non-irritating and more esthetically pleasing alternative to traditional metal RPD frames, according to the company.

Ultre AKP is a rigid material — not flexible — suitable as a metal replacement and different than the other non-metal materials currently on the market, the company asserts. It is both strong enough and tough enough to be tooth-supported and help reduce bone loss, yet it is flexible enough to engage undercuts more deeply.

Making multiple adjustments to a milled RPD can be time-consuming and frustrating for patients and dentists alike. Furthermore, months or even years of adjustments tend to wear down once-healthy teeth. Not only does Ultaire AKP provide an esthetically pleasing, biocompatible alternative to metal, once an RPD made out of Ultaire AKP is designed and fitted, adjustments should not be necessary — saving the dentist and patient valuable time.

“Ultre AKP is a paradigm-shifting polymer — it really hits the sweet spot between metal and the flexible systems on the market today,” says Ryan Murphy, PhD, technology manager and polymer scientist at Solvay Dental 360.

With more than 35 brands in more than 1,500 formulations, Solvay has the broadest portfolio of high-performance health-care polymers in the world, the company asserts.

Henry Schein Inc. has announced the launch of a brand campaign titled “Rely on Henry Schein” that conveys the stories of customers discussing the critical role Henry Schein plays in their success.

The campaign initially features three dental practices and their unique stories that reflect the company’s mission to help clinicians be more successful so they can focus on delivering the best quality care.

The #relyonhenryschein campaign features videos on the company’s website and social media pages along with advertising placements in dental trade magazines as well as Henry Schein’s own publications.

The launch features the stories of three dental practices and their owners: LIC Dental Associates, and Dr. Ishwinder Saran, of Long Island City, N.Y.; Roschella & Zinger Dental Group, and Drs. Karen Roschella and Ann Zinger, of Marriottsville, Md.; and Clinique Dentaire Tapiero Bouhadana, and Drs. Maurice Tapiero and Anne Bouhadana, of Saint-Bruno-de-Montarville, Quebec, Canada. Each story details an event in which Henry Schein’s expertise allowed the practice to prosper in a time of need.

More stories will roll out during the balance of the year and through 2019.

“We strongly believe our high-touch, full-service value proposition makes a positive difference in the lives of our customers, and we can think of no better way to convey that message than to have our customers tell their story in their own words,” said Stanley M. Bergman, chairman of the board and CEO of Henry Schein. “We are honored that these exceptional professionals would allow us to share their experience with Henry Schein, and we look forward to bringing more success stories to life in the months ahead.”

Each story explores a particular event that led the customer to call on Henry Schein for help. In “Built from the Ground Up,” Saran tells the story of how Henry Schein helped him establish his first practice. In “Equipment Down!”, Roschella and Zinger explain how Henry Schein reacted quickly to avoid the loss of potentially weeks of customer visits by a sudden equipment failure. And in “The Comeback,” the husband-and-wife team of Tapiero and Bouhadana describe the tragic loss of their practice to a fire and the work Henry Schein did to get the business up and running.

To see these stories and more about the campaign, go online to www.henryschein.com/relyonus.

It’s time your practice technology worked as one.

When your dental equipment and software do not talk to each other to share data, it slows your team down.

That’s because technology designed as stand-alone solutions forces teams to re-enter patient data and waste time doing busy work.

We believe dental technology should work together to streamline your practice workflow, not create roadblocks.

That’s why we formed Henry Schein One.

Learn how Henry Schein One’s connected practice management systems simplify marketing, patient engagement and management, so you can improve each step of the patient experience.
