Closing time

By Robert Selleck, today Staff

Today is your last chance here in Honolulu to take advantage of the enticing deals, hands-on testing, straight-from-the-developer education (and fun giveaways) in the exhibit hall at ADA 2018 — America’s Dental Meeting. And remember, the early Hawaiian hours that have been enabling many of you to enjoy the beach and other sights in the afternoon sun are even earlier today, with the exhibits coming to a close at 1 p.m.

Courses and other activities will continue into the afternoon and tomorrow.

A stroll down the end of the 1400 aisle to check out the offerings of the 2018 Cellerant Best of Class Technology Award Winners opens to a new expansion of the Digital Future of Dentistry Technology Expo; a main stage featuring presentations from some of dentistry’s top futurists.

The sessions are drawing packed crowds, along with curious observers trying to figure out how the audience is following two different presenters, neither of whom can be heard if you’re just passing by.

You can still catch a session today to see for yourself how simultaneous lectures can keep a capacity crowd’s attention in the middle of a noisy, bustling exhibition floor.

There are five sessions taking place this morning, leading up to a closing presentation from 12:30-12:45 p.m., the “Best of Class Award Winners Highlight.”
row. But the ADA exhibits will be gone until around this time next year in San Francisco. Meanwhile, there’s no shortage of innovative products and services to explore during open hours today.

The Henry Schein booths (Nos. 1304, 1305 and 1405) have a range of new products on display, including DEXIS Titanium, NOMAD Pro 2”, Planmeca Planmill 30s, 3Shape TRIOS® Move, Henry Schein One’s practice management software, TechCentral OmniCore™ and Dentrix® G7 featuring SmartImage. The booths are hosting live demonstrations featuring the latest digital scanning devices and milling systems – as well as thought-leader discussions via #ScheinChats, Henry Schein’s signature social media series available on Facebook Live.

You can learn about Henry Schein’s commitment to helping oral health professionals navigate the world of dentistry through the company’s digital solutions (booth No. 1305), Henry Schein One (booth No. 1405), and Henry Schein Professional Practice Transitions (booth No. 1304).

Over at Solvay 360, in booth No. 1043, you can handle an Ultaire AKP partial to see for yourself how the innovative aryl ketone polymer provides a biocompatible, light-weight, metal-free, non-irritating and more esthetically pleasing alternative to traditional metal RPD frames. And here in Honolulu, you can get two for the price of one.

In the Shofu Dental booths, No. 1111 and 1444, you can see a demonstration of the new EyeSpecial C-III dental camera. The EyeSpecial C-III, is packed with upgrades, including a larger sensor, a faster processor, optimized software and a higher resolution LCD screen, all of which will help the entire dental team master photography tasks in a more intuitive, faster and easier fashion.

You can learn all about the 430SWL Torque Flex handpiece in the DentalEZ booth (No. 1635). The handpiece combines the power of the StarDental 430 Torque with flex coupling. With 31 watts of power, the 430SWL Torque Flex has the power you need for all of your high-speed procedures, according to the company.

Remember: ADA member dentists who spend a cumulative total of $3,500 or more with exhibitors at ADA 2018 are eligible to receive free registration to next year’s meeting in San Francisco. Pick up an Incentive Buying Program envelope in the registration area.

Member dentists can submit receipts for purchases made in the ADA 2018 exhibit hall. Documented show-site purchases totaling a minimum of $3,500 must be presented collectively on-site at an ADA information desk by the deadline at the meeting (consult the official program or registration desk for location).
